Effective Communication in a Virtual World

Presented by: Gavin Leach, University of New Mexico

The impact of Co-Vid on the way in which we communicate is undeniable. Distance communication software is the new “norm” when collaborating with team members. Many scholars and professionals believe that this change is here to stay. For some this is a very scary thought indeed! However, there’s no need to fret, good, effective communication CAN be achieved with these new mediums.
