LEANSTACK: Lean Startup Innovation Platform

Presented by Michelle Albro

Do you have a transformative and innovative idea that will disrupt the market? Are you thinking of starting your own business? LEANSTACK is where to start!

Join us to learn about the innovative LEANSTACK platform that provides world-class tools and training that help early-stage entrepreneurs find repeatable and scalable business models. As its name implies, the platform provides a lean process to build an investor-ready, one-page business plan.

LEARN

Presented by experts at the forefront of their field, sessions focus on skills and offer practical suggestions for applying them in real-world situations.

CERTIFICATION

Demonstrate your commitment to upholding quality standards and continued learning to earn a Quality Certificate from the UNM Anderson School of Management.

NETWORK

Meet prospective mentors, partners, and clients, and gain access to the resources that will foster your career development.
