Get to the Gemba

Presented by Taylor Stewart

Gemba is one of the most well-known components of lean management, yet we find that outside of manufacturing, we may not see it as a foundational aspect of lean application.

In this short discussion, we will explore the power of Gemba and find ways where we might be able to incorporate it into our everyday life as a method to kick start or reenergize our application of lean.

LEARN

Presented by experts at the forefront of their field, sessions focus on skills and offer practical suggestions for applying them in real-world situations.

CERTIFICATION

Demonstrate your commitment to upholding quality standards and continued learning to earn a Quality Certificate from the UNM Anderson School of Management.

NETWORK

Meet prospective mentors, partners, and clients, and gain access to the resources that will foster your career development.
