Making Project Management Principles Work for Your Business

Presented by Michelle Dearholt

This seminar is tailored to organizations or business owners that are working towards or want to implement a project management framework but may be intimidated by PMBOK. Learn to implement PMBOK principles by customizing a framework that is palatable and works to create a culture of discipline in how change is executed.

LEARN

Presented by experts at the forefront of their field, sessions focus on skills and offer practical suggestions for applying them in real-world situations.

CERTIFICATION

Demonstrate your commitment to upholding quality standards and continued learning to earn a Quality Certificate from the UNM Anderson School of Management.

NETWORK

Meet prospective mentors, partners, and clients, and gain access to the resources that will foster your career development.
