NeuroColor: Personality, Biology, and Team Effectiveness Presented by Jane Newell Ph.D.

Come learn about the latest in personality assessment and team effectiveness through use of NeuroColor: the only personality assessment tool that focuses on how biology influences personality. Research, with the use of fMRI imaging, identifies 4 major systems in the human body that influence our personality preferences. The heart of NeuroColor is to 1) know yourself, 2) understand others, and 3) seek to build bridges in communication. NeuroColor is effective in increasing both personal and team effectiveness. Come and get involved through hands-on exercises and discussions!
