The Way We've Always Done It?! Reinvent YOUR Mediocre Employee Engagement Strategy to Create QUALITY Results!

Presented by Kellie Tinnin

"The poor performance of American companies lies in the failure of management to keep abreast of modern methods of management and innovation." – Edward Deming
Engaged employees are important to organizational productivity, quality, and long-term revenue. Nearly 2/3 of employees are not engaged in their day-to-day work, which can hurt the quality of work from your organization. How does this impact your bottom line?

LEARN

Presented by experts at the forefront of their field, sessions focus on skills and offers practical suggestions for applying them in real-world situations.
