Making Quality Information Visible.
Presented by Cathy Blosser

In today's digital world, Document and Records Management needs to be seamlessly integrated into the organization's digital landscape. A comprehensive Information Management framework containing modern digital elements will be presented with a focus on information/data mapping, metadata schemas, and an AI philosophy. We will take an in-depth look at these 3 critical elements and discuss how they are integral to providing visibility to a quality program's information.

LEARN

Presented by experts at the forefront of their field, sessions focus on skills and offers practical suggestions for applying them in real-world situations.
