Engaging Teams Through Storytelling

Presented by Jerome Deroy

Why get up early? Because better communication means better results. This session shows how storytelling principles improve leadership alignment, employee engagement, and customer communication. Through real business examples, you'll learn simple, practical tools to move from information-sharing to meaning-making—so your messages inspire action, strengthen culture, and improve execution.

This is an in-person only event at the UNM Continuing Education Building, Room C
1634 University Blvd NE,
Albuquerque, NM 87102
Door open at 7:00 AM MDT
